In his complaint and in his response to Defendants' motion for summary judgment, Plaintiff appears to raise an issue of changes in classification as a form of retaliation after filing a grievance. The Defendants are given twenty days from the date of this order to brief this issue including, but not limited to, the relevance of Martin v. Duffy, 858 F.3d 239 (4th Cir. 2017). Thereafter, Plaintiff shall have fifteen days to file a response.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
